NOW THAT we are in the Christmas season officially, we know there will be those who will groan loud and long about the lack of Christmas decorations on Campbell Ave.

Last week we attempted to forestall some of the complaints that we know are certain to arise by trying to explain the problems, (basically a financial one) that are involved in gaily festooning Campbell Ave. with Yuletide strands of lights.

The retail business places that remain on Campbell Ave. no longer can afford to pick up the tab for the length of the street. The shopping centers in the "fringes" are naturally more concerned with their own centers than doing something about Campbell Ave.

Neither the Chamber of Commerce nor the city can justify using their general funds for the decorations. The inevitable result is that the street will be the same as last year, no Christmas lights.

But, despite our explanation, there will be gripes.

And we really can't blame'em.

Christmas decorations certainly do add something...

But, unfortunately, they don't grow on trees like mistletoe...

They cost money.

IT HAS BEEN SUGGESTED that instead of street decorations, maybe it would be possible to string lights on the Judge Blaine memorial evergreen tree in Campbell Park and on others along the street.

And perhaps it would be possible to decorate the entire park at the Creek and also do something Christmassy about the tiny oasis at the railroad tracks.

True, the trees at the railroad tracks are stately walnuts. Some might think it a wee bit incongrous to dress'em up in Yuletide decor, but we are sure the trees wouldn't mind.

We betcha something attractive in that line could be worked out.

WE HAVE NOT the slightest idea of what we are talking about as to design or cost.

But we like the idea so much that we have suggested that the C of C explore the possibilities with the city.

It would be nice to know also how you feel about it.

We know some of you must have ideas that could be developed without costing a mint.

And we have an idea that if the community could come up with something, support from where it counts might be forthcoming.

And maybe a few bucks to put it over.

RECENTLY during one of the study sessions on the city's master plan now being developed by Charlie Cavanagh under the '701' program, Campbell Ave. was the chief topic of discussion.

We were tempted to trot out one of the many editorials we have written on that par-

City is now 'for the birds'

Campbell is now a bird santuary by official action.

At the urging of the Campbell Garden Club, the City Council on Monday adopted a resolution which designates this city as a bird sanctuary and provides for the necessary enforcement under existing ordinances to protect the molestation of birds and birds' eggs.

Many cities in the state, the council was informed, have already taken similar action to protect the birds within their city limits.

The resolution also specifies which birds would not come under the protective arm of the city.

City completes Winchester Blvd. project

FINISHING TOUCHES-On Monday of this week the final paving coat was applied (above) to the Winchester Blvd. improvement project and by the end of the week striping will be completed.

The completed project costing $140,000 provides continuous curbs and sidewalks, new paving, additional storm drain facilities, new street lights and underground utilities.

Protests raise in rent

City treasurer objects

Mrs. Velma Olds, city treasurer of Campbell, took the floor Monday night (above) at the City Council meeting to protest the proposed raise in rent from $200 to $225 per month for the house on Sunnyoaks owned by Lou Colla and leased by the city since 1961 for a fire station.

Mrs. Olds claimed that the rental figure had been too high from the start for the house in comparison to the values of similar residences in the same tract.

Colla had informed City Manager Bob Stephens that the reason for the rent increase was that taxes had doubled on his property.

Mrs. Olds also criticized the fact that the city pays three months in advance.

The councilmen apparently agreed with Mrs. Olds' reasoning. They directed Stephens to inform Colla that it was felt that $200 per month was plenty to pay for the house.

The city plans to construct a new fire station in the same general area as a result of the bond issue that was passed. The property for the station has already been acquired.

Three alternatives

Council adopts bond sale plans

Acting on the recommendation of the city's financial consultants. the City Council on Monday night authorized three different proposals for the first sale of city bonds scheduled for next February.

The sale next February will be the first in a series that will be scheduled over a period of years for the city's capital improvement program based on the $2,600,000 bond issue approved by the voters on Oct. 24.

John Vande Pol, of Scwabacher & Co., the financial consultants, had informed City Manager Bob Stephens that the present bond market is fluctuating to such a degree that his firm felt it was to the city's best interest to allow flexibility in the first sale.

Based on this recommendation, the council officially authorized three ways to go on the first sale. City Manager Stephens labeled the three, "minimum-minimum", "minimum" and "optimum".

The lowest amount offered would total $500,000; the highest would be $870,000 and $685,000 would be the middle figure.

Under the $685,000 proposal, streets and traffic safety, including $25,000 earmarked for the city's share for the Rincon Ave, pedestrian overpass would be $145,000. This would be cut to $100,000 if the lowest amount of bonds was offered and would be increased to $265,000 under the "optimum".

In the fire protection category, under the minimum offering, $300,000 would be specified, including $40,000 for land acquisition and $260,000

OPENS TODAY-Campbell's newest supermarket, Lucky Stores, located on W. Hamilton at the San Tomas Expressway in the new Riverside Plaza Shopping Center is staging its grand opening today (Wednesday).

In addition to the huge modern market, in the center, Riverside Pharmacy and Ernies Wines and Liquors, bot in operation for the past week, are participating in the grand opening event.

Next Tuesday night

New "downtown" group to hear of city plans

Campbell's newly appointed "Downtown Revitalization Committee" will meet next Tuesday, Dec. 5, at the City Hall at 8 p.m. to organize and hear from city officials what is comtemplated for future improvements of Campbell Ave. by the city.

The new committee replaces the "Downtown Redevelopment" group that was organized in 1961 to stimulate developments for the downtown core. John Faber of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, first and only chairman of the downtown group, will also preside next Tuesday.

The orginal committee spearheaded the futile efforts to form a downtown parking district.

Despite the failure of the parking district to get off the ground, civic leaders felt that it was necessary to have a downtown advisory group to work with the city on future plans for the area.

Although the newly-formed "revitalization" group has many of the same members who served on "redevelopment committee", the intent of the new unit is to act in more of an expanded advisory capacity to the city in all phases of future planning that affects the downtown core.

At next Tuesday's meeting, city officials

To demolish a hazardous eye - sore

It takes more than "condemming" to bring a house down in Campbell

It takes more than just legally posting "condemned" on a house before it can be demolished by the city.

Even if the house is uninhabited and presents a health and fire problem.

That's why Wally Byron, city building official, requested the City Council Monday night that the city attorney be authorized to take the legal steps to declare the house at 313 Grant Ave., (accompanying pictures) a public nuisance so it can be demolished by the city under a recently adopted city ordinance.

Byron said the property had been "posted" on Nov. 14, 1966, more than a year ago but that the owner, Mrs. Lillian Webb Grimm, had failed to acknowledge any of the official notices.

The council directed City Attorney to investigate.

Rainfall to date totaled .71 inches, with .26 of an inch falling Monday night. Normal for Nov. 28 is 3.08 inches with 4.85 inches being recorded by this date last year.

Editorial

Revitalization

By a recent resolution of the City Council, the "Downtown Redevelopment Committee", which was organized in 1961, was dissolved and a new group formed called the "Campbell Downtown Revitalization Committee".

On the surface, we suppose, it would appear to many that changing "redevelopment" to "revitalization" was hardly a major step in the progress of this community.

But to the dedicated leaders who have tried to "do something" about the downtown core, there was more than mere semantics involved.

As John Faber, chairman of both the old and new groups, pointed out, "redevelopment" has an entirely different connation that "revitalization".

"Redevelopment", in a sense, places a limitation on the scope of activities, confining the action to basic changes in properties and to the landowners involved.

It was felt that, if the downtown core was to be improved, it was necessary to involve and expand the committee's horizon so that the committee could be in a position to advise and recommend to the City Council actions that would give new life to the downtown area.

It has been emphasized time and again, that successful revitalization programs in other cities have been the result of concerted joint efforts of the business community and city government that were affected.

The "downtown area" has more or less been defined as the commercial area on both sides of Campbell Ave. between Winchester Blvd. and Los Gatos Creek and the City of Campbell is in the stages of completing advanced planning studies for this area which will directly affect its future.

Obviously, unless there is a definite effort made for the city administration to work closely with a representative group of property owners, tenants and other interested citizens in the downtown area, any so-called "advanced plans" can hardly be expected to get off the drawing board.

Such specific projects as traffic circulation, street and storm drain improvements, traffic signals, the civic center development, etc. are all related to the picture as a whole.

Thus, it has become apparent, that there is a definite need for an advisory group vitally concerned with the development of the downtown area to work with the city. Hence the revitalization committee.

During the six years that the "redevelopment" committee was in operation, a determined effort was made by key members of the group to establish a downtown parking district. It was felt that such a district would be necessary, no matter what the future held for Campbell Ave.

The City of Campbell cooperated in engineering studies and in other means in the futile attempt to organize such a district. Apparently it was felt that it was just too large a load, for the few who recognized the need, to carry by themselves. So the matter was quitely laid to rest.

Now the city must move ahead on the improvement of Campbell Ave. on its own without any action by a property owners group.

But regardless of who does take the initiative, it is necessary for all concerned to be fully informed as to what is planned. Thus a "revitalization committee" can and must play an important role in the future of the downtown core.

Many ideas of the future that are barely more than a gleam in the eyes of the planners at present could really "shake up" the area, should they ever materialize.

In our opinion, the proposed civic center complex and the library which will become a reality in a relatively few years, will have a tremendous impact on the downtown core and could possibly provide the impetus for the long-awaited revitalization.

But probably the one major factor in the entire picture or "dream" of the area will have the greatest effect on the downtown area is what the future holds for the "temporary" junior college site at Campbell Ave. and Winchester Blvd.

There is no question in anyone's mind but that the property now occupied by the junior college must be developed "properly" and be a part of any overall revitalization program for the area.

But it is difficult for the city to develop "advanced plans" when it is not known how long the college is going to remain in its "temporary" site.

The City of Campbell has gone on record favoring a West Valley College campus in the city and the city has cooperated with the college in its cramped operation at the "temporary" site.

It seems to us that the college officials have been unfair to the city by not giving some sort of definite idea as to the length of stay in the temporary location or whether there is to be a permanent campus in this city.

College officials must be aware of the road block they have placed in Campbell's way as far as "advanced planning" is concerned.

It will be difficult for the newly-formed "Downtown Revitalization Committee" to advise and recommend without something definite from the college.

ticular subject over the years.

One particular editorial we had in mind would have covered the situation quite well, for it asked the same question that was asked in the study session: "What shall we do about Campbell Ave.?"

But the particular editorial of ours was written in 1956, more than 11 years ago.

And we are not sure whether we are any closer today to getting an answer than we were then.

CAMPBELL AVE. is scheduled to be improved during the next year or so from Winchester Blvd. to the railroad tracks which will allow for four moving traffic lanes and street parking for the most part.

Undoubtedly this improvement will help the traffic flow and will be much appreciated by those of us who now must use the street many times daily. That is, provided we haven't gone stark, raving mad by that time.

Most of us local yokels make an attempt to avoid the street like a plague during the peak traffic hours.

But when we are caught like we have been a number of times, it is enough to make strong men weep.

And those spots you notice in this column are real tears.

Let us know of a more frustrating experience than to sit through that long signal cycle at Winchester and Campbell and then not be able to make it across Winchester on the "green" because the traffic is bumper-to-bumper all the way down the street ahead of you.

Chewing nails doesn't help.

We know.

With our short fuse we are already down to the fingers.

SOONER OR LATER, we feel certain there must be alternate routes developed on either or both sides of Campbell Ave. to get that through traffic through town.

We admit it gripes us to realize that more than 90 per cent of the traffic that is on the street is not local and it is our tax money that must be used to improve the routes to get 'em wherever they are going that much faster.

But there seems to be no other answer.

Unfortunately when the "through traffic" ties up the street, it affects us poor unfortunates who live and work here.

Many times we can't get onto the danged street, when we want to. Then we can't get off it when we do get on, or we can't move on it.

In case some of you have tuned in late, you may not have realized what has taken place on Campbell Ave. in recent years.

So take your own traffic count between 4 and 6 p.m. sometime.

That old main drag isn't what it used to be.

But that question we asked in 1956 still stands:

"What shall we do about Campbell Ave?"

And the first guy who says "get a horse", we will shoot on sight.

City Council accepts bid for bonds for long-awaited district

What could be the long-awaited final act in the long-delayed Local Improvement District No. 11 for the development of the area off Campbell Ave. and Union was taken Monday night by the City Council.

The council approved the bid of Chandler & Co., Beverly Hills, at an interest rate of 5.4896% for the sale of the $129,950.89 bond issue that will finance the improvements of the area.

Approved also Monday night was the bid of Fox Motors of Los Gatos for four new Plymouths for the police department. The net bid, including trade-ins, was $8,469.41, the lowest of the five that were submitted.

This was the second time around for the police car purchase.

The Council had rejected all three bids that were submitted several weeks ago on the basis that it exceeded the budget allocation by $1001.91.

No bid was received the first time from any Plymouth agency.

Although the low bid Monday still exceeded the budget allocation, the bid accepted was $138.51 lower than the lowest one submitted the first time.

Courtesy Chevrolet was the low bidder the first time with a net of $8607.87 but did not submit a second bid. Those bidding besides Fox were Normandins (Plymouth); Paul Swanson Ford; Grant Bishop Chevrolet and Bob Coyle Chevrolet.

The council Monday night on the recommendation of Police Chief John Morgan turned down the request of The Pocket, 1719 S. Bascom Ave., to install two game machines. The police chief felt that the machines would make for undue congestion. He suggested, however, that the application should be re-submitted, if the owner, Thomas Taylor, could rearrange or remove other equipment to provide the necessary room.

The council also voted to suspend a proposed ordinance that would allow the city to transfer a 3½-foot strip along Fourth St. to the proposed applicant for a commercial parking lot in that area just off Campbell Ave.

Although the Planning Commission had approved the "vacation" on the basis that the city did not need it for the eventual improvement of Fourth St., the council preferred to keep the property and did not adopt the necessary "vacating" ordinance.

for fire station No. 2. This could be lowered to $250,000 in the lowest.

The civic-center complex (police-city administration facilities) would have $130,000 earmarked in the minimum sale with $80,000 for the lowest and $140,000 for the maximum. Land acquisition would account for $100,000 in all the offerings with $30,000 added for demolition in the maximum. Architectural fees would account for $30,000.

In the library category, the medium offering would be for $110,000, the lowest $70,000 and the highest $140,000. Land acquisition accounts for $80,000 of the total figure.

The city's time table for the capital improvement program will extend over a period of years with the objective in mind of scheduling work in stages.

Therefore, construction of the fire station can start almost at once, as the site has already been acquired. Acquiring the needed land for the other improvements will take considerable time, so construction funds will not be needed immediately.

The council in authorizing the bond consultants to proceed on the three-way plan, emphasized, however, that the council will have to make the final decision as to which way to go when the time for the bond sale nears.

"Barricade burglar" invades five Campbell homes

Five Campbell homes were burglarized recently by a thief police describe as the "barricade burglar." The suspect barricaded the front door with chairs before he began his search for money or valuables. He also opened a rear door for a quick exit.

Two homes in the Los Ranchitos tract near Campbell Ave. and San Tomas Road were entered during the night of Nov. 17. Ted Wallace, 1899 Ensenada Drive, told police $120 in cash and a Browning automatic revolver was taken from his bedroom. The front door was barricaded with chairs. Entry was made through a rear bedroom window.

Ronald C. Mason, 1632 Castro Dr. told police he discovered his home was burglarized when he returned from work. He reported $460 in currency, a $25 Savings Bond and two valuable rings were stolen. His front door was also barricaded with chairs.

Two other residences were entered on Nov. 18 according to police with the same method of operation. William J. Pishek, 205 Morrene Dr. and Dr. Kuros Tabari 255 Morrene Dr. reported burglaries. The thief took only $7.00 from his daughter's "piggy bank" according to Pishek, but nothing was reported missing from the Tabari home, although the bedrooms were in disarray.

Harold Simonson, 250 Michelle Dr., reported $100 in currency was stolen from his home on Nov. 19. Entry was made through a rear window and chairs blocked the front door.

The thief left no fingerprints, police indicated.

Westmont Whirl

By Laura Vierra

Students, parents and alumni were on hand to watch the annual Thanksgiving Game between the Westmont Warriors and the Leigh Longhorns.

Despite the great spirit of our rooters our varsity went down in defeat 21-13.

Half-time entertainment was at its peak. Leigh's band performed first with the Warrior Marching Band following.

Before the start of the game our Homehoming Queen was crowned. Westmont's Queen for this year was Drifa Christendotter with Linda Mohr, and Ann Bagger as her princesses.

Thursday our Frosh-Soph beat the Longhorns with the score of 20-6.

The paper drive ended last Wednesday with the winning class not yet known.

Thursday morning the Westmont Marching Band had their annual breakfast at the Colonial Pancake House.

Football is now over and the attention will go to basketball and wrestling. The first wrestling meet will be this Friday against James Lick at James Lick. Starting time will be at 3:30.

SENIOR PLAY

This Thursday is the first night of the Senior Play, "The Man Who Came To Dinner". It's a great play so buy your tickets now. The play will continue on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 30, and Dec. 1 & 2.

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard

Campbell High Varsity Football team took first in the West Valley League competition with an undefeated season. They topped off this season with a victory over the Los Gatos Wildcats, 45-12, at the annual Thanksgiving Day battle.

CELEBRATION

Spirit was at its best as the cheerleaders and songgirls presented the football players with a "victory cake".

After returning to the school after the game the team threw Leesa Nickeson, (head varsity cheerleader) and Mary Nelson, (head frosh-soph cheerleader) in the pool in their uniforms.

While the cheerleaders were in the pool the Buc Band marched through Los Gatos High School's halls boasting the victory. After the march, they returned to school to congratulate the team.

The Frosh-Soph team suffered a heart-breaking defeat last Thursday. The battle between the Los Gatos team and Campbell was the decision of who was to take first. Los Gatos skimmed by with the winning touchdown.

The Homecoming Queen was announced at a rally last Wednesday. The queen was Jeanne Vaquero, escorted by Don Fox. Her princesses were Sally Quinn, escorted by Gerris Elkins, Kathy Shriver, escorted by Bill Ridgway, Patty Smith, escorted by Tim Sapp. The queen was crowned by student body president Mason Sax and was given a bouquet of roses. She was presented at the game.

The Buc Band held their annual breakfast on Thanksgiving at Lyon's. The band presented Mr. William Perkins, band director, an eighteen pound turkey.

Also getting together for breakfast were the Cheerleaders and Songgirls of Campbell and Los Gatos.

The football team also met at Ken's Pancake House for breakfast.

Basketball season has started and the first practice was held last Friday morning. A good season is predicted.

The annual Christmas Program is being planned by Larry McCommas, orchestra director. Details will be announced.

Seminars offer international relations study

The West Valley Board of Trustees this week approved plans to establish a study group series dealing with international relations.

"Great Decisions," seminars organized in cooperation with the Foreign Policy Association, will begin about Feb. 1, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, West Valley president.

The series is open to all residents of the West Valley community. The school will be the focal point for the organization of the several groups.

Interested persons may contact the college's Office of Community Relations, 379-1733, Ext. 58.

Participants will use materials provided by the Foreign Policy Association. The materials are geared to special television and radio programs as well as feauture news articles, said William Deal, Community Services Coordinator. The study kits cost $2.50.

The Foreign Policy Association is a national organization which seeks to foster a better understanding of international relations and the formulation of foreign policy.

The seminars will deal with many of the prominent foreign policy issues currently facing the United States.

Deal said several other area junior colleges are planning similar programs and if the seminars prove successful, the College Association for Public Events as well as the Foreign Policy Association will seek to expand it throughout California.

Del Mar Sports

Del Mar's football and cross country teams wound up their 1967 season last week. Runner Bruce Runcie took ninth at the Central Coast Section meet, while the next day, Thanksgiving, the Del Mar football squad suffered an agonizing defeat by Camden in a close one, 29-28.

Camden seemed to have all the breaks in the annual Turkey Day homecoming game at Del Mar. Nevertheless, the Dons still made a good showing with some spectacular plays. Loren Toews caught Del Mar's first touchdown, a thrilling 66 yard pass from quarterback Gerry Bush. After Todd Martin grabbed a 14 yard pass from Bush, Bush threw two more fantasic touchdowns-one a 42 yarder to end Don Transeth, the other a 44 yarder to Martin.

Bush threw 19 for 29 for 320 yards, including the four touchdowns, and also kicked the Dons' four extra points.

With a 6-3 year, the Dons' football team has racked up their best-ever record.

CROSS COUNTRY

After taking first in the WVAL finals and fifth in the Regionals, Bruce Runcie, Del Mar's all-time great cross country runner, went on to take a ninth place medal at the Central Coast Section meet at Laguna Seca last Wednesday. Getting a medal at the CCS meet is the highest honor that can be bestowed on a high school cross country runner from this area.

With the fall sports season being completed, Del Mar will plunge into its winter sports season starting with a varsity basketball game at Cupertino on Dec. 1, and a wrestling meet with Monterey, Seaside, and Campbell at Monterey the next day.

Camden Capers

By Gayle Piech

Camden Cougars, despite their past record, stomped the Del Mar Dons at their traditional Homecoming Game held on Thanksgiving Day on the Del Mar turf.

Camden won its seventh Turkey Game from Del Mar. The Dons have won three.

Accurate passing and a hard-played ground game led the Cougars to a 29-28 victory.

More excitement filled this big game, with the crowning of Camden's Homecoming Queen Bonnie Grant, and Del Mar's Homecoming Queen Angela Bell.

Though the teams rivaled, Queen Bonnie Grant and her court of Princesses, Chris Gearin, Lee Ann Ditson, and Debbie Harms, and Queen Angela Bell and her court of Princesses Jennifer Kravich and Carol Crawford shared the honor of reigning over the game.

A combination of Camden's and Del Mar's band, majorettes, and flag girls entertained spectators at the half-time.

College sets "ground rules" for enrollment in evening classes

Students now enrolled in evening classes (extended day) at West Valley College should keep Dec. 4 in mind if they plan to return to the program for the spring semester.

That's the date on which they must begin picking up priority registration cards as part of the new procedure designed to make registration simpler and quicker, according to Hugh Staley, acting dean, Extended Day Program.

Students now enrolled must obtain cards between Dec. 4 and Dec. 14 and Jan. 2 through Jan. 4. They will determine when and where students will register, and the earlier students obtain their registration cards, the earlier will they be allowed to register, Staley said.

Students can obtain cards in the Admissions Office between 6:30 and 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday, starting Dec. 4.

Students who plan to enroll in extended day classes for the first time next spring must complete an application and information sheet in Room A-8 between 6:30 and 9 p.m., Monday, Jan. 8 through Thursday, Jan. 11, and 15 through 18.

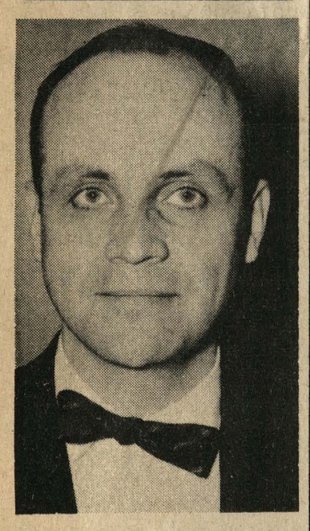
Priority cards will be given to new students after they have completed the necessary forms.

Any extended day student who wishes to pursue a degree program should have a copy of his high school and college transcripts. Counseling services will be available to these students.

All students should bring their social security card with them because that number becomes their official West Valley identification number, Staley said.

Staley said he expects about 3000 students will register for spring, 1968. Of those, between 1500 and 2000 students will be new.

Registrants must be West Valley College District residents or have obtained a release from the district in which he resides. Foreign students will be required to pay tuition for any course in which they may enroll.



APPOINTED--John E. Hauser, M.D. has been named Chief Medical Examiner-Coroner for Santa Clara County by Norman B. Nelson, M.D., director of medical institutions, effective Dec. 25.

Dr. Hauser is presently assistant Medical Examiner-Coroner and will succeed Hobart R. Wood, M.D., who will become medical examiner in Charlotte, North Carolina. The new appointee will receive a salary of $25,147 a year.

Dr. Hauser, a 39-year-old 1956 graduate of Stanford Medical School, has been with the county for two years and received his bachelor's degree from San Jose State.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

To the astute reader of the news, three seemingly unrelated news items which appeared in the nation's press on November 17 are parts of the same picture. They show how "politics as usual" is getting the present Administration deeper and deeper into fiscal hot water.

In one of the articles, Senator Robert F. Kennedy expressed disapproval of the House of Representatives' action in cutting this year's authorization of War on Poverty funds to $1.6 billion. He said, "We spend $3 billion a year on pets and we should be able to afford $2 billion to fight poverty."

In the same article, his brother-in-law, Sargent Shriver, warned that because of the House action 14,000 Job Corps enrollees would have to be sent home, the Neighborhood Youth Corps would have to drop 37,000 summer jobs for the poor, 61,000 poor children would lose the assistance they now receive in school, and 45,000 children would be dropped from the Head Start program.

The two-brothers-in-law obviously phrased their statments for political impact and not accuracy. The $1.6 billion voted by the House is more than the amount currently being spent by Shriver's office. Why, with more money, would he be required to drastically cut back on popular programs? When Senator Kennedy implies that we spend more on pets than on poverty, he ignores the hundreds of welfare and anti-poverty programs already underway. The truth is the taxpayers now spend more than $30 billion each year to fight poverty.

The second article published on November 17 announces the first sixty-three cities to receive planning grants and to embark upon a program of revitalization under the Model Cities program. Of the sixty-three, only nine were in Republican Districts. The smallest community was Smithfield, Tennessee, with a population of 2300 which is home base for the Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee handling Model Cities funding. Five other members of the subcommittee had cities in their districts which received planning grants. Majority members of still another committee which figured in passing the Model Cities law were all rewarded with grants in their districts. It is also reliably reported that the President himself deleted two cities on the list and replaced them with Texas communities.

The planning grants of $11 million will certainly blossom next year into requests for actual work which will run into the billions. Thus, a brand new political multi-billion dollar program got off the ground on November 17.

The third article of November 17 was compressed into an obscure two column inches. It announced the worsening of the balance of the payments by $670 million and a further drain on U.S. gold reserves, a clear indication that foreign countries have little faith in our fiscal stability.

Considered together these three items present this clear picture--Federal programs are being used to serve political purposes is disregard of the serious fiscal situation which confronts this nation and the overburdened taxpayers who must foot the bill!

Questions and Answers

Q. - Must the doctor treat me in the hospital for his charges to be covered by medical insurance under medicare?
A. - No. Services of physicians and surgeons are covered no matter where you receive the services - at home, in the doctor's office, in a clinic, or in a hospital.
Q. - I recently went to my family doctor for a routine physical check-up. Will this be covered by medicare as a physician's service?
A. - No. Medical insurance under medicare does not cover routine examinations which are not for the purpose of disgnosing or treating specific symptoms; nor does it cover examinations required by third parties, such as insurance companies.
Q. - I am being treated at home for a chronic condition and must take certain drugs which the doctor has prescribed. Are these drugs covered by medical insurance?

A. - Only drugs and injections which are administered by a physician and cannot be self-administered are covered by medicare. For example, a tetanus injection administered by a doctor or his nurse following an injury would be covered, but not prescription drugs which you administer yourself.

Q. - My husband recently had a stroke and, although he is convalescing at home, he needs help in learning to walk again. Is therapy of this kind covered under medicare?

A. - Medical insurance under medicare covers up to 100 home visits in a year by a certified home health agency when a physician establishes and reviews a plan for such visits. Included in the services provided by a home health agency are part-time nursing, physical and speech therapy, use of medical appliances, personal care of the homebound patient, and medical social services.

Q. - Must I pay my medical bills in full and then claim reimbursement from medicare or is there some alternative for payment for services provided?

A. - There are two methods of handling payment for services and the choice is made by you and your doctor. You may pay the bills presented to you and then be reimbursed for 80 percent of the reasonable charge after submitting the request for payment form with an itemized receipted bill to the proper medicare carrier. Under the second method the physician may request payment be made directly to him, in which case he accepts as full payment the reasonable charge as determined by the carrier and charges the patient no more than 20 percent of this reasonable charge.

A committee was formed to see what could be done about the flooding that occurs around San Tomas School every winter. A publicity committee was formed to advertise the Associations meetings and to find ways of encouraging San Tomas residents to join the Association.

The next meeting of the Assoication will be on Wednesday, Dec. 6 at San Tomas School.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD #15

"The long arm of the law" stretched out and greeted the Junior Scouts of TROOP 371, Capri School, with a warm and friendly welcome when the troop visited the Los Gatos Municipal Court House.

His Honor Judge Richard W. Rhodes. presiding judge, welcomed the girls and ushered them into the courtroom where he then answered numerous questions. After showing the troop the Judges Chambers, the holding room and court library, he called upon Robert Tennet, Assistant District Attorney for the County,

Mr. Tennet's "question and answer period" was cut short however, when the bailiff, Jack Campbell quickly hurried the girls back to the courtroom. This was indeed a thrill for the girls as they are all working on their Active Citizenship badge.

Seeing a court in action was more than they had hoped for. After bringing in the verdict, the jury was dismissed and the courtroom cleared, except for the Girl Scouts. Mr. Campbell then introduced Gene Moore, the court reporter, who wrote a few sentences on the steno-type machine for the girls to read. It was truly a most enjoyable and informative visit and Troop 371 is most grateful to the very "active citizens" who took time to make them welcome. Leaders of Troop 371 are Mrs. Richard Backstrom and Mrs. Richard Warren.

Award program list includes sign ordinance

Campbell's sign ordinance, adopted by the city early this year, after lengthy study sessions involving the Planning Commission, Chamber of Commerce committees and other interested civic groups has been submitted as a project in the first annual awards program conducted by architects of the area.

Campbell's ordinance is one of 130 projects that have been submitted for judging in the program conducted by the Santa Clara Valley chapter of American Institute of Architects, according to William Busse, chapter president.

The award winners will be announced at a banquet held on Dec. 7 at the Palo Alto Hills Country Club.

The two-fold program is designed to give area-wide recognition to local government agencies and architects making significant contributions to better community planning and architectural design.

A panel of five outstanding architects will judge the projects submitted.

Projects have been submitted by Los Altos, San Jose, Milpitas, Palo Alto, Santa Clara, Mountain View, Sunnyvale, Gilroy, Los Gatos, as well as by the county and cities in neighboring counties.

Projects range from sign ordinances, zoning, streets, and civic buildings to a complete city.

In another phase of the awards program, outstanding contributions made by architects will be recognized. In this category, 34 architectural firms have submitted 90 different projects for the judges to consider.

Half-million use PG&E recreation sites in year

Favored by excellent weather and good water conditions this past vacation season, nearly a half-million Californians enjoyed the use of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's recreation facilities at 50 mountain locations.

The total includes 350,000 campers and picnickers who spent approximately 750,000 recreation days boating, fishing and engaging in miscellaneous water sports. Scenic vantage points, roadside rests and historical sities maintained by the company were visited by approximately 125,000 persons.

A total of 42 new camping units were built during the year thus making it possible to accommodate 4,400 visitors daily at 620 camping and picnicking units developed by PG & E.

Of the number using company recreation facilities, 48 percent visited the Mt. Shasta-Feather River area units; 24 percent went to the Interstate Highway 80-Donner Summit area, 26 percent were at the Carson Pass-Highway 88 area and 2 percent stopped at Manzanita Lake area near Fresno.

PG & E's recreation facilities, all of which are open to the public, are a beneficial by-product of the construction of 66 hydro-electric generating plants operated and owned by the company. Supplementing lands under lease and license from governmental agencies are 250,000 acres of company-owned watershed lands which are used by the general public for hunting, fishing and general recreation enjoyment.

In Northern and Central California PG & E owns 145 lakes having an aggregate surface area of 60,000 acres and 450 miles of shoreline. A total of 225 miles of live streams flow through company lands.

Previously inaccessible land has been opened for use by sportsmen and recreationists by the construction of hundreds of miles of access roads now maintained as either county or company roads.

All PG & E watershed lands are open to the public except for limited areas where safety requirements are the primary consideration.

College requests federal funds

West Valley College Board of Trustees recently authorized President Wallace W. Hall to submit application for up to $500,000 from the federal government under the Higher Education Facility Act of 1963 to help finance construction of the language arts-social science building on the Saratoga campus.

Dr. Hall said changes in the state law at the last session of the legislature assures the means by which the necessary share of local funds will be made available for the matching federal and state funds for the building.

Dr. Hall noted that this will be the first time the West Valley College has made application for these funds. It is estimated that approximately $7,800,000 will be made available during the current fiscal year to California junior colleges for construction grants. The West Valley application will need to be submitted to the California Coordinating Council for Higher Education by December 15, which will review it before transmitting it to the U.S. Commissioner of Education.

will bring the group up to date as to the progress of the city's "701" advanced planning program as it affects the downtown area.

The committee will also learn of the contemplated time table for the improvement of Campbell Ave. under the so-called "Plan 2" and also when the storm drains in the street will be installed. The first bids for the storm drains were rejected by the city because they were too high. It is planned to call for new bids shortly after the first of the year.

Of vital interest to the group also will be the results of a city council-college board meeting on the previous night

On Monday night, Dec. 4, the City Council and trustees of the West Valley Junior College District will meet in a joint session to discuss the future of the college as it pertains to Campbell.

The council has emphasized repeatedly that without definite information as to the future status of the "temporary" site, the city is stymied in finalizing any comprehensive plans for the downtown area.

The future disposition and use of the property now occupied by the college, of necessity, must be included in any advanced planning program for the city, the councilmen have emphasized.

So far the council has been unsuccessful in obtaining any definite committment from the college board.

Thanksgiving Day football battles wind up 1967 grid season

Campbell High, West Valley Athletic League champions for 1967, climaxed a brilliant undefeated (9-0) season on Thanksgiving Day by smashing Los Gatos High 45-12 in the 34th annual traditional battle between the two schools.

Los Gatos still holds the edge over the years with 18 victories to 15 for Campbell. There has been one tie.

In the second oldest Turkey Day "traditional" in the league, Camden High, the underdog, nosed out Del Mar 29-28 late in the fourth quarter.

Camden's win knocked Del Mar out of second place in the league's standings. In the nine years that the two teams have met, Camden has won seven times and Del Mar only two. Del Mar ended the season with a 6-3 mark while Camden closed with 4-5

In another Thanksgiving battle in the league, Blackford swamped Saratoga 34-14 and gave Blackford undisputed possession of second place in the league, thanks to Camden's victory over Del Mar.

In the other Turkey Day grid game, Leigh defeated Westmont 21-13.

The loss left Westmont without a victory for the season and allowed Leigh to get out of the cellar in the finals West Valley Athletic League standings.

CAMPBELL

In the Campbell-Los Gatos game, Chuck Hawthorne, sensational Buc back, again proved why he had been named most valuable player in the league for two years.

Hawthorne scored four touchdowns and a PAT for 25 points to win the scoring title in the Central Coast area. He has a season total of 149 points and 1,263 yards.

The victory for the Bucs on Thanksgiving was the third in the row for the locals over their arch-rivals. For the season Campbell averaged 32.7 points per game and allowed its opponents only 7.1 points per game.

Hawthorne scored touchdowns on runs of three, 43, 20, and two yards.

Campbell led at halftime 20-6, having scored with 38 seconds left on a 23-yard pass from quarterback Gary Tomasso to Stan Hedegard.

Campbell scored first after Hawthorne galloped 81 yards and then went over from the eight. Los Gatos, however, came right back in the first quarter on a pass play. Hawthorne scored twice in the second period and from then on it was a runaway.

Mike Talley tallied for Campbell on a five-yard recovery of a fumble and Gray made it on an eight-yard run.

CAMDEN

In the Camden-Del Mar battle, Rick Aguilar ran 44 yards with a Rusty Thompson pass late in the fourth quarter to give the Camden Cougars the 29-28 victory.

Aguilar was the star for Camden getting 138 yards on 15 carries and getting 63 more yards on pass receptions.

Del Mar was leading 28-22 when Aguilar took the toss and scooted for home to tie the score. Andy Rimbault bucked over for the PAT and the win.

Both teams scored twice in the first quarter. Del Mar's first score came on a pass from Gerry Bush to Loren Towes. But Camden hit the scoreboard first after taking the opening kickoff and marching 63 yards in seven plays.

BLACKFORD

In the Blackford 34-14 win over Saratoga, it was the tough defense of the Braves that turned back Saratoga's bid in the second half that proved to be the key of the battle.

Saratoga was behind 21-0 at halftime but moved within one touch down of Blackford in the early stages of the fourth quarter and were on the go to tie up the ball game until a couple of pass interceptions took the heat off.

Saratoga gambled and won with an onside kickoff to start the second half.

Blackford players intercepted three passes during the game. Greg Ojeda went 48 yards to score with one and Mike Lombardo went 65-yards for six points on another.

Other defensive players for Blackford singled out were Skip Adams, Jeff Momsen and Bob Rose.

LEIGH

In the Leigh-Westmont game won by Leigh 21-13, Dave Edtl, junior fullback at Leigh, scored two touchdowns and gained more than half of Leigh's total yardage, to prove a big factor in the Longhorn's victory.

Boysen and Smith scored for Westmont. Boysen scored on a 29-yard pass from Day and Smith recovered a fumble in the end zone.

During the game, Westmont fumbled seven times. Leigh collected only five first downs and Westmont three.

CAMPBELL CRUSHERS--Campbell High varsity football team, champions of the West Valley Athletic League for 1967, made impressive records on the gridiron this fall both offensively and defensively.

The Buc offense racked up 295 points while the defense was allowing only 64.

Two members of the 1967 champion team HANK OLTMANN (left) and DICK PERRY (center) had the unique distinction of going "both ways". Oltmann started every game at both tackle on the offense and end on defense.

Perry, son of the late Coach Bill Perry, performed at fullback and linebacker.

CHUCK HAWTHORNE (right) the star on the offense gained 1263 yards during the season and 148 points. For the second successive season Hawthorne has been named "most valuable" player in the WVAL.

GROUND GAINER--Dennis Fuller of the Camden High Cougars picks up valuable yardage in the Camden-Del Mar annual Thanksgiving Day battle Camden won 29-28 in the last few minutes when Rick Aguilar streaked 44 yards to score.

Many fail to apply for Social Security disability benefits

About one of every five applicants for social security disability benefits delays so long before making his application that he risks possible loss of some payments, according to John J. Cassidy, of Social Security in San Jose.

In an effort to remedy this situation, the Social Security Administration is asking anyone who might possibly qualify for disability benefits to get in touch with a Social Security Office as soon as possible.

"Some people fail to apply because they don't realize that they can benefit from the program" Cassidy said. "Younger people often think that social security payments are only for people in their sixties, whereas the disability program was specifically set up to protect the wage earner who is forced to stop working before he is old enough to collect retirement benefits."

A person under 65 can receive monthly payments if he has a physical or mental impairment that has kept or will keep him from working for a year or more. Individual benefits range from $44 to $149 a month. If the worker has dependents, total family benefits can amount to as much as $332 monthly.

"Others don't file because they are under the impression that they have to be permanently disabled. This was generally true before a 1965 change in the law, but now payments can go to a person whose disability has lasted, or is expected to last, for 12 months or longer," Cassidy pointed out.

Benefits begin after a person has been disabled for six full months. No benefits can be paid for months during this "waiting period." Also, the law limits the back benefits a person can collect to the 12 months before the month in which he applies.

This means that the latest a person can file without losing any back benefits is the month that comes after the 18th month of his disability. These 18 months cover the waiting period and the 12-month limit of retroactive benefits.

A recent social security survey shows that at least 19 percent of disability applicants file later than this, thus risking loss of benefits they might otherwise have received. An undetermined number of disabled persons do not file at all, and so miss out entirely.

Cassidy cautioned, however, that benefits can be paid only if a person's disability is severe enough to prevent him from doing not only his usual job, but also any work in keeping with his age, education, and experience. And, to be eligible, a person must have worked under social security for at least 5 of the 10 years before he became disabled.

Benefits continue for as long as the disability lasts, or until the beneficiary reaches 65. At age 65, disability benefits are converted to retirement benefits.
